

Pennsylvania Herald, 1 August 1787

A gentleman from New-York informs us, that the anti-fœderal disposition of a great officer of that state, has seriously alarmed the citizens, as every appearance of opposition to the important measure upon which the people have reposed their hopes, creates a painful anticipation of anarchy and division. At this critical moment, men who have an influence upon society, should be cautious what opinions they entertain, and what sentiments they deliver,—yielding to the passions and exigencies of the country all dogmatic fondness for particular systems and arrangements.
